Dear Mr. Crane,

We do not have a "subscription service". Periodically, I send out to local newsmen who have asked for it a listing of Agency reports which have been sent to the Documents Expediting Service of the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540. I enclose an example of the kind of thing I send out.

This listing comes out every so often, usually about once a month. As it indicates, I sometimes have a few extra copies that I can send out at no charge to editors and correspondents who ask for them. If I run out of my supply, they must ask the Documents Expediting Service for their regular service.

I can send you this listing whenever it comes out or send it to your Washington bureau at the National Press Building.

Sincerely,

Angus MacLean Thuermer
Assistant to the Director
